Eloise at Christmastime

It's Christmas Eve Eve, everyone! If you are anything like me, during the holiday season you love to snuggle up with comfy blankets, some hot cocoa, and a nice classic movie. The movie I want to share with you is one of my favorites ever since I was little, Eloise at Christmastime. The movie surrounds a young 6-year-old named Eloise who lives in the Plaza Hotel in New York City. A wedding is about to take place on Christmas Eve. Rachel, the hotel owner's daughter, is engaged to Brooks, but Eloise decides Rachel is marrying him for the wrong reasons. As a result, she tries her hand as matchmaker between Rachel and Bill, a friend who is a waiter at the hotel. Set at Christmas time, Eloise works to bring Christmas cheer to the Plaza, help those close to her find love, and most importantly spend her favorite holiday with her mother. Definitely check out Eloise at Christmastime - you will not regret it!

Favorite book?

There are far too many to list, but Douglas Adams' The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy will always be a favorite. A series of five adventure-packed books, Adams' unrelenting irony and wit against a bleak existential backdrop is endlessly hilarious. I also love Suzanne Collins' The Hunger Games series, Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice, and anything written or to be written by R.F. Kuang!

Favorite place in the library?

The third level in the stacks! That's where the literature is located, and I could get lost in there for days. A close second would be the Special Collections room.

Favorite sport?

I'm not really athletic at all, but I love to ski! I'm not a meandering skier, more of a I'm-going-to-bomb-this-hill-now-see-you-at-the-bottom skier. I almost joined the ski team in undergrad, but my schedule was too full. Maybe it's something I'll go back to one day.

What's your favorite place to eat in the area?

California Burritos! They have burritos, tacos, bowls, quesadillas, and more delicious options. I get something different every time I go. They have two locations, and one of them is on Factory Street, which is very close to the Rivier campus. But I also recommend the one on Cellu Drive!
